Offshore Diving Industry Agreement

1 Scope

- 1.1 This Agreement establishes the minimum Day Rates payable and Terms and Conditions, for the categories of Personnel defined in Clause 16 below who are employed in diving operations in the United Kingdom Sector of the North West European Continental Shelf, whether outside the territorial waters of the UK (normally 12 miles or 19.25 kilometres from shore), or inside territorial waters where offshore diving, normally in support of the oil and gas industry, is being carried out. Specifically included are non oil and gas DP and bell diving operations. Specifically excluded are diving operations being conducted in support of civil, inland, inshore or harbour works or in any case where operations are not conducted from an offshore structure, vessel or floating structure normally associated with offshore oil and gas industry activities.
- 1.2 The Employers and the Union agree to jointly monitor these rates of pay and terms and conditions. The National Union of Rail, Maritime & Transport Workers agrees to act in the best interest of its members and the undersigned Employers in enforcing the terms of this Agreement throughout the industry. Appendix 7
- 1.3 The Agreement also contains a joint statement of commitment to Health and Safety, and the legal protections afforded to employees and workers in respect of raising health and safety concerns, set out in Appendix 3.
- 1.4 The term 'Employee' is often used within this Agreement to refer to an individual engaged to work on behalf of a Signatory company in one of the positions in Clause 16. Similarly, the term 'Employer' is often used to refer to a Signatory company. The Signatory companies have different contractual arrangements with their diving personnel and these terms are not intended to indicate any particular form of contractual relationship.

2 Parties

- 2.1 This national Agreement shall be binding upon the National Union of Rail, Maritime & Transport Workers (the recognised Union acting on behalf of diving industry personnel employed in the United Kingdom Sector of the North West European Continental Shelf and hereinafter called the Union), and all the Employers signatory to or represented by duly nominated representative(s) who are signatory to this Agreement (hereinafter called the Employers).
- 2.2 Further the Union undertakes to enforce the provisions of this Agreement upon all Employers of divers operating in the area defined in sub-clause 1.1 above whether or not such Employers are signatory to this Agreement.

3 Duration, revisions, and continuing industrial relations

- 3.1 This Agreement shall come into effect on 1 November 2012 and shall constitute the entire Agreement between the Parties and shall be valid until 31 October 2015.

- 3.2 Revisions and termination - No variation or amendment to this Agreement shall be sought or entertained by the Parties during the operation of this Agreement, otherwise than in accordance with the following:
- a) No less than 12 (twelve) months' notice shall be given in writing by any of the Parties if termination is required or 3 (three) months for revision. These notice periods may be waived by mutual agreement of the Parties.
 - b) Where revisions to the Agreement are proposed, the Parties aim to ensure that these shall be agreed at least 12 (twelve) months prior to their implementation.
 - c) The Day Rates and Saturation payment valid from 1 November 2012 as set out in Appendix 1 will increase by a further 1.5% or Averaged RPI + 1% (whichever is greater) on 1 November 2013 with a ceiling cap of 4.2%. The RPI figure used will be the actual RPI figure from October 2012 to September 2013 and averaged by a division of 12, as set out in www.statistics.gov.uk. The revised amounts shall be rounded up to the nearest penny. And a further 1.5% or Averaged RPI + 1% (whichever is greater) on 1 November 2014 with a ceiling cap of 4.2%. The RPI figure used will be the actual RPI figure from October 2013 to September 2014 and averaged by a division of 12, as set out in www.statistics.gov.uk. The revised amounts shall be rounded up to the nearest penny.
- 3.3 Not with-standing the provisions of Clause 3.2 above the minimum rates of pay and terms and conditions contained in the Agreement shall remain in effect until 31 October 2015.
- a) The Parties aim to ensure that any modifications to rates of pay and terms and conditions intended to take effect beyond 31 October 2015 shall be agreed between the Parties by 1 November 2015, and that negotiations to this end shall commence 15 (fifteen) months prior to 1 November 2015.
 - b) The Union agrees that no departure from normal working or stoppage of work in support of any claim falling within the scope of sub-clauses 3.2 b) or 3.3 a) shall occur during the life of this Agreement.
- 3.4 The Parties agree to continue mutual consultation, as necessary, during the life of this Agreement, except that it is agreed that discussions or negotiations in support of any non-statutory economic claim shall occur only in accordance with provisions of Clause 3.3 above.
- a) The Parties agree to invite ACAS to assist with, and agree to participate in, conciliation or mediation in circumstances where resolution of differences has failed to reach agreement, before any unilateral action is taken by either side.
 - b) Formal recognition and procedural arrangements for negotiating the Agreement are contained in Appendix 2.

4 Disciplinary and Grievance Procedure

- 4.1 This Agreement does not prescribe provisions for dealing with disciplinary or grievance matters between Signatory companies and individual personnel, or for the resolution of differences or disputes concerning this Agreement or its interpretation. The provisions applying within each Signatory company shall be used in these circumstances.
- 4.2 No departure from normal working or stoppage of work shall occur unless the relevant provisions have been exhausted.

5 Standard Minimum Rates of Pay (Day Rates)

- 5.1 The standard minimum rates of pay (Day Rates) which shall apply during the life of this Agreement are referred to in sub-clause 3.2(c) and set out in Appendix 1. These shall be in respect of whole or part days worked offshore.

These Rates are 'all-inclusive' insofar as they include all elements of contractual monetary payments made by the Employer in return for work done, (other than saturation pay; travel and subsistence allowance; medical and offshore survival training allowance; safety boot allowance; compensatory payment for 'specialist skills' waiting periods'; and divers special training allowance which are detailed within this Agreement).

- 5.2 The Rates and Saturation payment are agreed to include expressly an amount in respect of entitlement to contractual and statutory annual leave – often called 'rolled-up holiday pay' – in lieu of workers receiving additional payments when they actually take holidays. It is the intention of the Parties that this 'Holiday Element' arrangement – which includes a calculation in respect of time spent undertaking mandatory work-related training sessions and medicals - discharges the Employers' obligations in respect of annual leave under the Working Time (Amendment) Regulations 2007 in full.

In the event that changes to current working time practices are required by law, the Parties reserve the right to renegotiate the terms of this Clause of the Agreement.

- 5.3 During the life of this Agreement the minimum saturation payment will be paid at the hourly rate shown in Appendix 1, seal to seal, for saturation and bell bounce diving operations.
- 5.4 All Day Rates and Saturation payment for categories of personnel under Clause 16 shall be raised by the formula in Clause 3.2(c) and the differential in Day Rates between disciplines shall remain the same.

6 Allowances and Ancillary Payments

- 6.1 The allowances and rates which shall apply during the life of this Agreement are set out in Appendix 1.
- (a) Travel, Subsistence, Safety Boots, and Dental Certificates - an Allowance for each day or part day spent working offshore will be paid by the Employer for

- (i) the cost of all travel from home to the point of mobilisation and return and associated subsistence costs. (The point of mobilisation and return shall be the designated port or airport on the mainland of the UK). Where a tour of duty is such that the actual cost of travel and subsistence is not fully covered by the daily travel and subsistence allowance, approved travel and subsistence costs will be reimbursed by the Employer against documented expenditure. In the event, however, that actual travel and associated subsistence costs are either paid by or reimbursed by the Employer then the Allowance will not be paid.
- (ii) the cost of supplying their own Safety Boots for which the Employer will compensate the employee with an allowance.
- (iii) the cost to the employee of obtaining dental certificates.

b) Medical and Offshore Training Certification

An Allowance for each day or part day spent working offshore will be paid by the Employer to the employee in compensation for the employee's requirement, at his/her own expense, to obtain certificates covering

- (i) Medical assessment of fitness for the relevant type of offshore work, and
- (ii) Basic Offshore Survival Induction Emergency Training (or refresher) and
- (iii) Minimum Industry Safety Training (MIST) or refresher and Vantage Registration

The Allowance reflects all costs, including third party costs of course fees and medicals, travel, accommodation and meals and Vantage Registration costs.

c) Divers' Additional Training Allowance

An allowance will be paid to divers, and diving supervisors and superintendents, in respect of the costs of all training. This allowance is based upon the costs of obtaining suitable industry qualifications and is payable to personnel even if they do not have such qualifications or whether they have other qualifications as the allowance is intended to encourage divers, diving supervisors and diving superintendents to undertake suitable industry training courses.

The employers and the union shall agree a training matrix of the type of training the employers would prefer the allowance to be used for, which can be agreed by both parties to be amended as industry requirements change.

The allowance takes into account the first aid training and refresher training which all divers were required to undertake under the Diving at Work Regulations 1997.

These rates will be paid to divers, diving supervisors and diving superintendents for the type of diving on which they are employed (i.e. the particular job, surface supplied or bell diving) and NOT in respect of the divers' qualifications which they hold.

d) Annual Uplift

The allowances in a) b) and c) above will be uplifted on 1 November of each year based upon the rate of RPI at September (as published in the October) of the year of uplift. The RPI index that shall be used throughout this Agreement to determine the percentage increase shall be that published by the National Statistics Online www.statistics.gov.uk. The calculated increase will be rounded up to the nearest penny.

e) Compensation for delays during specialist skills' 'waiting periods'

The scheme, which outlines the circumstances in which payment may be made in compensation for a worker's agreement to remain available for an assignment, by virtue of the requirement for the worker's specialist skills, during a defined 'waiting period', is set out in Appendix5.

f) Mobilisation

When an employee is required to mobilise to a worksite (i.e. a DSV, rig, barge, etc) that is moored inshore or alongside a harbour, or required to check-in for a scheduled helicopter flight to such a worksite offshore, he shall be paid at 100% of his normal rate of pay for that day. However, if he is required to mobilise between midnight and 8 a.m. at such a worksite, or required to check-in for a scheduled helicopter flight to such a worksite offshore then he will also be paid at 100% of his normal rate of pay for the immediately preceding day.

For all further days of mobilisation alongside, the full Day Rate will apply, together with the allowances under 6(a), (b), and (c) as appropriate.

g) De-Mobilisation

When an Employee is demobilised from a worksite and arrives onshore after 4 p.m. he may reclaim agreed overnight accommodation expenses if incurred.

h) Offshore Crew Changes

The full Day Rate shall apply in all circumstances for offshore crew changes.

In the event that an offshore crew change is delayed due to inclement weather or any other factor preventing offshore transportation of the employee out with the Employer's control then the full Day Rate shall apply.

i) Public Holidays

All personnel covered by this Agreement will be paid an additional 100% of their relevant day rate, and of the relevant Saturation payment where applicable, if they work on January 1, January 2, Good Friday, Easter Monday, May Day, last Monday in August, December 25, December 26

For the avoidance of doubt these uplifts will apply

- on the stated days only and, if for any reason a public holiday falls on another day, then the additional payment will be made for work only on the stated day only, and
- to the relevant Day and Saturation Rates set out in Appendix 1, and will not apply to any other allowance or payment made under this Agreement.

The details of conditions precedent, provisos, definitions, exclusions, claims and operative time of the insurance policies are set out in Appendix 4.

7.3 Copies of the insurance policies

Copies of the insurance policies which set down the detailed conditions, exclusions and benefits covered by this clause are held by each of the Employer Signatories to this Agreement. ODIA and the Union shall hold a copy of a sample policy. Insurance certificates in the name of each Employer Signatory to this Agreement shall be held by the ODIA and the Union.

8 Length of Tour Offshore

8.1 As a general principle the Employers agree to a maximum 28 (twenty-eight) day tour of duty offshore. The Union accepts that extensions to 28 (twenty-eight) day tour of duty may be necessary and should such situations arise the following main considerations will be taken into account to ensure the provision of the necessary operational flexibility:

- a) the duration of the job after 28 (twenty-eight) days
- b) the client's requirements and timescale regarding saturation work
- c) availability of crew change transport.

It is agreed that at all times prime consideration will be given to safety.

All personnel shall be in possession of the relevant certification and an in-date valid passport, as a minimum, for the anticipated duration of their tour of duty.

9 Manning Levels

9.1 Manning levels should be established such that regular working beyond 12-hour shifts should be avoided. However, it is recognised that some flexibility is reasonable in order to meet unexpected operational and safety requirements.

9.2 Any manning levels shall comply with the UK and EC Working Time Regulations as they apply to the worksite to ensure adequate periods of rest at work.

10 Trade Union and Employer Representation

10.1 This is set out in the Recognition and Procedural Agreement in Appendix 2.

11 Grading and Competency System

11.1 The Employers and Union recognise industry-wide moves towards competency-based training and performance assessment, and understand that personnel covered by this Agreement will be expected to conform to the IMCA Competence Assurance & Assessment Scheme standards as implemented by each Employer Signatory. These common Competence Assurance and Assessment Scheme standards will therefore be transferrable between the signatory companies.

11.2 Divers -The Employers and the Union have agreed that there will be two grades of diver for pay purposes i.e. 'Professional Diver' and 'Diver'. Before a diver can be advanced from the 'Diver' to the 'Professional Diver' grade he must be

- in possession of a Certificate approved by the HSE and IMCA for the type of diving work to be undertaken (surface supplied or bell), and
- since having held that certificate, assessed as competent for the type of diving work to be undertaken (air or Mixed Gas) according to IMCA competence and assurance scheme guidelines as implemented by each Employer Signatory

11.4 Balance of 'Professional Diver' and 'Diver'

The Employers and the Union have agreed to establish reasonable manning arrangements for worksites with a view to achieving balanced teams on offshore operations and to allow newly qualified divers to enter the industry and to gain experience. The proportions of each grade in a team could be as shown below:

|----------------------------------|----------------------------------|
| Bell | Surface Supplied |
| 80 per cent 'Professional Diver' | 70 per cent 'Professional Diver' |
| 20 per cent 'Diver' | 30 per cent 'Diver' |

The above proportions should be viewed as objectives, as contractual requirements or other considerations may determine the actual balance of a team.

11.5 Technicians

The Employers and the Union agreed that there will be two grades of Technician for pay purposes i.e. 'Senior Technician' and 'Technician' to replace the previous grades of 'Senior Diving System Technician' and 'Diving System Technician' respectively.

To qualify for the Senior Technician Grade, mechanical, electrical or hydraulic Technicians, he must be assessed as competent according to IMCA Competence Assurance and Assessment – Guidance Document and Competence Tables. Diving Division. (IMCA C003 Rev1) as implemented by each Employer Signatory.

12 Compensatory Payments

12.1 The Employers undertake to lobby the industry to agree provisions in contracts for diving services work with a view to introducing where the contract conditions allow.

- A form of Compensatory Payment for Embarkation Delays

12.2 The Parties accept that the establishment of this benefit, and their payment to Employees, are contingent on the Employers' ability to recoup the amounts from clients and customers.

13 Lobby to Parliament

This is set out in Appendix 6

14 Nature of Agreement

14.1 Both the Employers and the Union accept that this Agreement is binding upon them and agree to support, uphold and enforce, by all available means, the specific contents and spirit of this Agreement throughout the industry.

14.2 No supportive industrial action will be taken by the employees of the undersigned Employers for disputes which do not involve worksites of the undersigned Employers neither will industrial action be taken by employees of one of the undersigned Employers in support of disputes involving any of the other undersigned Employers.

15 Long Term Contracts

- 15.1 The parties agree that there will be no discussions or negotiations with respect to entering into long-term contracts between any personnel covered by this Agreement and the Employer Signatories, unless the value of the Day Rate contract (averaged over an agreed reference period which shall be no longer than 12 months) is no less favourable than the value of the long term contract in terms of equivalent compensation.
- 15.2 Where the personnel covered by this Agreement and the Employer Signatories enter into a long-term contract greater than 12 months. The allowances within clause 6(a), 6(b) and 6(c) shall not be paid, where the employer pays for those costs including any travel, subsistence and ancillary costs in full, or reimburses those costs including any travel, subsistence and ancillary costs in full, during the period of the long-term contract.

16 Categories of Personnel

- 16.1 The categories of personnel covered and bound by this Agreement are:

| | | |
|--|------------------------------------|--------------|
| Diving Supervisor (surface supplied or bell) | Assistant Technician | Life Support |
| Diving Superintendent (surface supplied or bell) | Senior Technician | |
| 'Professional Diver' (surface supplied or bell) | Technician | |
| 'Diver' (surface supplied or bell) | Rigging Foreman (or similar title) | |
| Life Support Supervisor | Rigger | |
| Life Support Technician | Trainee Rigger | |
| | Tender | |

- 16.2 The agreed qualifying criteria and definitions which constitute the eligibility requirements for each category of personnel shall be in accord with the grading and advancement scheme and the IMCA competence and assurance scheme guidelines as implemented by each Employer Signatory, established between the Union and the Employers which came into effect on 1 August 1984 and as amended by this Agreement. Regardless of eligibility for payment at a particular grade no person shall be paid at that level unless actually performing work at such a level.
- 16.3 Although the Union wishes to extend the scope of the Agreement, and the Employers wish to reduce its scope, the parties agree that
- (a) any changes in scope must be agreed, and
 - (b) any extension in scope shall be limited to diving-definitive categories of personnel

17 Entire Agreement

- 17.1 This Agreement is a general agreement designed to establish Standard Minimum Day Rates and Terms and Conditions for the Offshore Diving Industry in the United Kingdom Sector of the North West European Continental Shelf. This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement between the Employers and the Union and supersedes all previous agreements and side letters whether of a local company or national nature.

And a further 1.5% or Averaged RPI + 1% (whichever is greater) on 1 November 2014 with a ceiling cap of 4.2%. The RPI figure used will be the actual RPI figure from October 2012 to September 2013 and averaged by a division of 12, as set out in www.statistics.gov.uk. Formal Recognition and Procedural Arrangements for the Negotiation of this Agreement

2.1 General Principles

The collective bargaining machinery and procedures established by this Agreement are founded upon the following principles:

- a) A well-motivated workforce requires high levels of trust and involvement with their employers. The Employers, the RMT and employees are agreed that their relationship will be built upon the foundations of open communication, trust and mutual respect.
- b) The processes for collective bargaining and joint consultation must add value to the Employers and contribute to the achievement of business objectives by working together to achieve improvements in quality, cost and delivery.
- c) Employees are to be treated first and foremost as people with individual needs and expectations. The Employers want to be known as good employers that value their people for the contribution they make to the well-being and future success of the business. The collective machinery must allow the development of practices that are in line with the value that the Employers place on their people.
- d) The processes for collective bargaining and joint consultation are founded upon the concept of mutuality. This will be supported by joint regulation of questions appropriate for negotiation and by co-operation through discussion, on those matters appropriate for consultation.
- e) For collective issues to be addressed and resolved at the appropriate level where the necessary autonomy exists, decision-making authority must rest at the lowest level appropriate to the subject matter in question. Any agreement made at a higher level cannot be overturned or amended at a lower level.
- f) The collective machinery is an important channel through which employees have an opportunity to participate in and be consulted on questions and matters concerning their employment. In order that the dialogue within the machinery and procedures can be both representative and effective, the Employers will encourage employees within the scope of this Agreement to join an appropriate trade union.

The Union Signatory to this Agreement is recognised as the sole negotiating Trade Union for the categories of employees covered by this Agreement.

The Employers recognise the value of membership of this recognised Union but the Parties accept that there is no obligation for employees to become members of the Union.

2.2 Employee Representation

There will be up to 2 (two) employee representatives per vessel/worksites. If there are 2 representatives, they are not to be of the same disciplines (disciplines as listed in Clause 15 of the Agreement). They will be elected from the personnel and by the personnel on board covered by the Agreement by a simple show of hands. For short duration and ad-hoc projects less than 28 days the Company representative may fulfil the role of vessel/worksites representative.

There will be 1 (one) company employee representative per Employer Signatory. They will be elected from the personnel and by the personnel employed by that Employer and covered by the Agreement by a ballot organised by the Union. (Duration of holding this position shall be 3 years) The Union will officially advise the Signatories who the representatives are.

2.3 Responsibilities of Employee Representatives

A duly elected and accredited representative shall not represent employees of any Employer Signatory other than his own.

The vessel employee representatives can discuss issues of a day to day nature in respect of the vessel, e.g. standards of accommodation, food, safety and general welfare etc. They cannot discuss the Agreement itself.

The company employee representatives for each Employer Signatory can meet together up to 4 times a year. The Employer Signatories and/or a full time representative of the Union will attend these meetings if requested. If the Employer Signatories are present, these meetings are not allowed to discuss or negotiate the Agreement but can be used to seek clarification of the Agreement.

Only company employee representatives may represent the Union in discussions and negotiations relating to Clauses 3.2(a) and (b) and 3.3(a) of the Agreement.

2.4 Training

The Employer Signatories to the Agreement shall allow trade union representatives to take reasonable time off to undergo training in aspects of employment relations relevant to the carrying out of their union duties as defined in section 2.3.

The employee representatives can attend a 5 day training course arranged by the Union. The representative's time, accommodation and travel expenses will be reimbursed by the Employer Signatories.

The Employer Signatories are also encouraged to attend a 1 day course provided by the Union at their training facility in Doncaster.

2.5 Impasse and ACAS

All parties to the Agreement shall have the right to call upon the services of ACAS where there is an impasse in any discussions or negotiations between the signatory parties.

2.6 Employer Signatory Representatives

Each Employer Signatory will provide to the union the names of a person or persons who will be the designated point of contact in the first instance where an employee representative can make formal contact to discuss matters arising from the union membership that they are unable to deal with at local level on the vessel or installation or other work site.

2.7 Negotiations of the Agreement

The Employer Signatories and the Union will agree representation levels for negotiating wages and terms and conditions in the Agreement prior to the commencement of such negotiations (see Clause 3.3 (a))

2.8 Communication

During the 15 month negotiation period (see Clause 3.3(a)) the meetings of the Employer Signatories and the Union to negotiate the Agreement will be minuted. Such minutes will be agreed and signed by both the Chairman of the Employer Signatories and the most senior full time representative of the Union present before concluding the meeting.

Communication with the employees and/or the media will be based on these agreed minutes.

2.9 Time off for trade union activities

Personnel who are listed in Clause 15 who are employee representatives under Appendix 2, section 2.2 shall be allowed reasonable time off to take part in any recognised trade union activity, including:

- a) meetings of official policy-making bodies, such as annual conferences
- b) approved workplace meetings and properly conducted ballots.
- c) preparation time for these and other agreed duties.

Where it is necessary for unions to hold meetings of members during working hours, they should seek agreement from the onboard vessel or installation management. Both sides should seek to agree on a time which minimises the effects on the operations of the Employer Signatory.

With the exception of industrial action, agreed time off for trade union activities will normally be paid.

A reasonable limit will be placed on the amount of time trade union representatives take to cover duties, training and activities.

This Agreement is in accordance with Section 168 to 173 of the Trade Union and Labour Relations (Consolidation) Act (TULR(C)A), 1992, and the ACAS Code of Practice on time off for trade union duties and activities.

2.10 Requests for time off

Requests for time off to pursue trade union duties or activities should be made through the representative's supervisor, department manager, or other appropriate person.

Requests for time off should include the purpose of such time off, the intended location and the timing and expected duration of the absence.

When considering a request for time off, management should give due regard to the reasonableness of the request, bearing in mind the need for adequate safety cover and the maintenance of the Employer Signatory's services.

The management concerned has the right to refuse a request for time off, provided that the reasons for refusal are reasonable and are made clear to the individual. Time off for trade union duties will not normally be refused unless there is a significant operational issue.

2.11 Facilities for trade union representatives

The Employer Signatories undertake to make available to representatives, the facilities necessary to perform their duties efficiently and to communicate effectively with their members.

These facilities shall include:-

- a) reasonable time off for trade union duties, training and other activities, as defined in section 2.9
- b) payment for such agreed periods of time off, equivalent to the amount the representative would have earned had he been at work.
- c) access to a telephone for genuine and urgent employment relations business.
- d) the use of the Employer Signatory notice boards by arrangement with management.

3.1 Statement of Commitment

We all have a legal and moral duty to make our Offshore Diving Worksites as safe and healthy a working environment as is reasonably practicable.

The Offshore Diving industry recognises that health and safety, as with any other responsibility, has to be managed successfully at all levels. Successful health and safety management contributes to our industry's overall performance by preserving and developing human and physical resources, reducing costs and liabilities and is an expression of personal and corporate responsibility. All individuals can make a valid contribution to achieving this objective and have a duty to take reasonable care of themselves and those affected by their actions or omissions.

Everyone has overriding responsibility to minimize risk. This includes ensuring that health and safety, their own and others, is not compromised during the execution of their work duties; that the environment is not damaged; that identified hazards are immediately reported; and that control measures are taken to reduce risk levels.

Every individual has an obligation and a legal requirement to STOP THE JOB if they believe it to be unsafe.

The Offshore Diving Industry is committed to improving performance in health and safety. Statutory requirements and the general duty of care form the basis upon which the Industry's health and safety commitment is built.

The Offshore Diving Industry recognises the importance individuals have in formulating and reviewing policy and practice. All are encouraged to comment and make representation regarding the policy through existing communication links with their elected Safety Representative, Trade Union Safety Representative or worksite Safety Officer.

3.2 Legal protection for employees and workers

The Parties support fully the legal protections which are in place for employees and workers in respect of raising health and safety concerns. The statutory regime which protects employees and other workers in England, Scotland and Wales who raise health and safety concerns is contained in the Employment Rights Act 1996 (ERA).

It provides employees with a right not to suffer a detriment or be dismissed in a wide range of health and safety scenarios which, depending on the facts, can be embraced by the health and safety provisions contained in Ss.44 and 100.

Employees and Workers can benefit from protections under the public interest disclosure (or 'whistleblowing') provisions in Ss.43A-43L and 103A where their health and safety concerns amount to protected disclosures which are made in the appropriate way.

3.3 Further Information

Further information about these rights may be obtained from RMT or from any of the signatory Employers.

Compensation for Delays during Specialist skills' 'waiting periods'

This Scheme outlines the circumstances in which payment may be made in compensation for a worker's agreement to remain available for an assignment, by virtue of the requirement for the worker's specialist skills, during a defined 'waiting period'.

'Specialist Skills' shall be designated as hyperbaric welding (manual or automatic); wet welding; radiography; ultrasonic technician skills; specified NDT skills (excluding generic testing under the CSWIP Phase 7 scheme ie: CSWIP 3.1u and 3.2u); and any other specialist electrical, mechanical or other engineering skills training undertaken at the request of the Employer for a particular assignment. The Employer shall determine whether, for a particular assignment, "Specialist Skills" are required.

Where the Employer determines a need for a worker to remain available for an assignment by virtue of his/her "Specialist Skills", the Employer shall advise the worker in writing or by e-mail of the dates of the defined "waiting period" and that the provisions of this Scheme apply.

Where the worker accepts this assignment, and the obligation to remain available during the defined waiting period, the provisions (1 – 4) below apply.

Where the worker has a specialist skill required for, or has undertaken specialist electrical, mechanical or other engineering skills' training at the request of the employer for, a particular assignment, the start date of the waiting period shall be no later than 28 days after completion of that training / the written notification above (whichever is later), unless otherwise mutually agreed.

Where embarkation is delayed beyond the first date of the waiting period then:

1. the employer will seek to make an offer of reasonable alternative work to utilise the worker meantime. The work may or may not be equivalent to the 'Specialist Skills' assignment but will be within the scope of the worker's normal discipline, and shall be paid at 100% of the Day Rate* applicable for that normal discipline.
2. for each day during the waiting period for which no reasonable alternative work is offered, the worker shall receive a compensatory payment of 50% of the Day Rate* applicable for the discipline required by the 'Specialist Skills' assignment.
3. if the worker unreasonably declines any offer of alternative work which is within his/her skills' base, no compensatory payment shall be made.
4. subject to receiving a minimum of 24 hours' notice, if the worker fails to report for work without good reason# on the required embarkation date within the waiting period, or on subsequent days during the assignment period, no compensatory payment shall be made and any such payments made already shall be forfeited. The Parties agree expressly that the employer may recoup such monies due direct from the worker's pay. In the event of any outstanding amounts thereafter, the employee will repay the remaining amount within 3 months.

* Day Rate is the rate set out in Clause 5.1 of, and Section 1.1 of the Schedule of Rates to, the ODIA 2012-15

Absence for 'good reason' will generally require advance warning, valid explanation, and evidence (where appropriate) of the reason for failure to attend.

Lobby to Parliament

Divers and diving supervisory RMT members will be asked to vote on whether to repeal the fiscal and social security laws that require their earnings to be taxed as trading income rather than earned income.

These laws and regulations to be repealed are:

1. Section 15 Income tax (Trading and Other Income) Act 2005
2. Section 6(5) Income tax (Earnings and Pensions) Act 2003
3. Section 20 of the Capital Allowances Act 2001
4. Regulation 92 of the Social Security (Contributions) Regulations 2001

The outcome of the vote result by RMT members diving and diving supervisory members will decide whether both the divers and diving supervisors or just the diving supervisors will seek to repeal or amend the fiscal and social security laws.

This will require the RMT to submit to Parliament a lobby submission to repeal these laws for which the RMT will undertake the lobbying. This will require the employers when asked by the fiscal policy department of HM Treasury to send letters of support to repeal or amendment of the above fiscal and social security laws.

The repealing of these laws does not alter the contractual arrangements between the signatory companies and the employees under this agreement, only the taxation arrangements with HMRC subject to a successful lobbying campaign.
